Gigantic Conspiracy to Seize Russia's Three Great Sea Fortresses Uncovered.

BLOODY CONFLICT RAGING

HELSINGFORS THE SCENE OF UPRISING.

Helsingfors, July 31.—A gigantic military conspiracy aiming at the simultaneous capture of Russia's three great sea fortresses, Cronstadt, Sevastopol and Sveaborg, arranged by the revolutionary military league, was prematurely sprung here last night by an attempt to arrest members of a company of sappers who had mutinied on account of the death of one of their comrades alleged to have been due to ill-treatment.

The entire garrison of the fortress at Sveaborg flamed out instantly in revolt. All the artillery men and sappers garrisoning the place were involved. Only four companies of infantrymen remained loyal. The mutineers seized forty machine guns and practically all the quick-firing and light artillery in the fortress, but even with this aid they were unable to hold the main fort against the loyal infantry. The fighting continued all night long. The heaviest firing was heard from 10 o'clock in the evening until 1 in the morning.

Red Flag Hoisted.

This morning a detachment of civilian revolutionaries entered the marine barracks on Skatunden island, hoisted the red flag and were joined by all the marines. Nine cruisers, torpedo boats and destroyers lying in the harbor opened fire on the barracks. This fire was answered from the third story windows of the barracks with machine guns and rifles. The torpedo boats and destroyers which were lying close to the shore were subjected to such a hot fire from the barracks that their crews were obliged to retreat. They finally steamed out and joined in the bombardment with the cruisers. This sea attack was in co-operation with the attack by Cossacks and infantry from the land side, which began at 9 o'clock in the morning and continued throughout the whole day. Finally, toward the evening, the firing ceased and the authorities announced that the barracks had been captured.

Exact Situation Unknown.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the Cossacks cleared the square in front of the palace facing Sveaborg and then drove the public from the entire water front for the purpose of preventing the sending of assistance from the city to Sveaborg. The exact situation at Sveaborg is not known. Rumors are in circulation that the entire fortress has now fallen into the hands of the insurgents, but this is not confirmed. It is believed that this cessation of fighting is only a prelude to the renewal of the battle between the mutineers and the government troops.

An authoritative estimate of the killed and wounded cannot be obtained, but the casualty list on both sides must be heavy. For the fighting was waged with desperation.

Many Rumors Afloat.

Various rumors are heard regarding the fate of the officers who were at Sveaborg and in the Skatunden barracks. According to one rumor almost all the officers, and according to another almost all the junior officers, sided with the mutineers. The marines at Skatunden are said to have condemned several officers to instant execution. The wives and families of the officers on duty in the fortress were sent ashore by General Laiming and were not molested by the revolutionaries.

The "red guard," who were cognizant of the plot, dispatched an expedition by a special train as soon as the revolt broke out, to cut the railroad track outside the city in order to prevent the arrival of reinforcements. A general strike was declared this afternoon and was obeyed by the workmen of all the factories.

NEWS IS CONFLICTING.

Full Details of the Mutiny Unknown in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, July 31.—No report of the suspension of the great revolt of the garrison at Sveaborg, the "Gibraltar of the North," has been received in St. Petersburg up to this hour. The secondary uprising among the marines and troops stationed at Skatunden barracks, on the peninsula communicating with the main land, was crushed out at a late hour yesterday afternoon by loyal troops after heavy fighting in which nine cruisers, destroyers and torpedo boats participated.

Firing Has Ceased.

The sound of firing on the island from the fortresses has ceased, in spite of the fact that the occupation of the entire water front by Cossacks prevents the obtaining of positive news it is announced at Helsingfors that the mutinous artillerymen and sappers still are holding their positions. The outlying islands and the fortress appear to be in their possession and they have perhaps all the machine guns, quick-firing and movable artillery of the fortress.

General Strike Declared.

A general strike was declared in Helsingfors by the Socialist workmen today. All factories have been closed. The last dispatch direct from the correspondent of the Associated Press, which has just arrived here, was eleven hours en route from Helsingfors. The correspondent said that the "red guard," an armed Socialist legion, was contemplating an armed uprising to attempt the release of the prisoners imprisoned in the Skatunden barracks.

Owing to the destruction of telegraph wires by the "red guard," which destroyed the railroad at Riihioaki, the Associated Press is receiving the freshest news of the mutiny by the roundabout means of telephoning to Viborg and telegraphing from there to St. Petersburg. This entails a delay of several hours. The military received a telegram from Helsingfors this morning from Major General Laiming announcing that the fortresses and artillery had opened fire on Commander island.

Insurgents Seized Artillery.

The insurgents seized the artillery, all the machine guns and took possession of one of the islands. Some of the telegraph wires have been cut. Major General Laiming announced that he was on Commander island with four companies of the garrison and two companies of sharpshooters sent from Helsingfors. He does not give the number of mutineers. Premier Stolypin has also received frequent messages concerning the mutiny. He told a caller that the situation was critical to an extreme degree. Almost the entire fortress is in the hands of the insurgents, and there were comparatively few loyal troops in Helsingfors. The district population is led by the "red guard."

BORAH FORCED A COMPROMISE

He stuck to that announcement in spite of importunities to change his course.

The "Harmony" Meeting.

In the harmony meeting, a meeting that is destined to become famous in Idaho Republican politics, Mr. Brady, Mr. Borah, C. C. Cavanaugh, Borah's manager; Governor Governor Cavanaugh, and Charles Heitman of Kootenai county participated. Mr. Heitman was chairman of the northern Idaho caucus held this morning and was supposed to represent Senator Heyburn as well as other interests. In the outset it is understood that Chairman Brady was inclined to be recalcitrant. He desired to be "showed." Mr. Borah showed him. It was suggested to Mr. Brady that he had instructed delegates, that these delegates were his, handle exactly as he pleased; that by the simple process of trading for states offices he could quickly secure the 126 necessary to nominate him, and that thus he would hold the convention in the hollow of his hand.

Brady Could See It Coming.

Mr. Brady is an astute politician. He apparently knew in coming east to the state conventions and in staying late, Pocastello is today full of them and several big county delegations are being organized. Mr. Borah has been on the ground with Frank J. Hagenbarth and others of his lieutenants for several days. Among the delegates to this morning's meeting was Senator Heyburn. Mr. Heyburn is looking much better than his friends had any right to expect him to be in view of his long and serious illness during the winter and spring. He says that, except for weakness, that is gradually disappearing, he is feeling first rate.

The Arrival of Senator Heyburn.

The arrival of Senator Heyburn has caused no end of gossip. It is a well known fact that he is opposed to nomination of senatorial candidates in state conventions, and the friends of Mr. Borah are not likely to be early in welcoming his presence. They fear that he is here to join in a combination with State Chairman Brady and other anti-Borah men to upset the Borah program. Senator Heyburn himself declared today that there was nothing in the report.

Merely a Spectator.

"I am here merely as a spectator," said he, "and not to take any active part in the convention whatever. I have no interest in the candidacy of any man, and I am not interested in any combination of men. I will not further attempt to defeat the ambition of any individual. My fellow Republicans have gathered here and I am here to mingle with them, because I believe it is the duty of every Republican to attend his state convention."

"Are you not on record as being opposed to the nomination of senatorial candidates in state conventions?" Senator Heyburn was asked.

"It is quite true," he replied, "that that is my position. It is a principle to which I have always adhered. As to the present fight, you may say I am taking absolutely no part in any way. I can only say that when I become a candidate to succeed myself I do not want the state convention to endorse or elect me. I am not turned to shake hands with some friends who came up to meet him."

Borah Had 124 Delegates.

The situation really is one of the most interesting that has ever developed in Idaho politics. The Borah men have 124 delegates instructed to vote for his endorsement. One hundred and fifty are necessary to control the convention, which will have 226 members. So Mr. Borah is twenty-six votes short. He and Mr. Hagenbarth both declare that in reality they have 126 votes, 26 more than enough. Whether or not this claim is well founded only the roll call can determine. The Borah claims are 27 votes from Ada county, 29 from Blaine, 6 from Boise, 8 from Boise, 15 from Canyon, 6 from Cassia, 5 from Custer, 2 from Elmore, 26 from Fremont, 4 from Idaho, 6 from Idaho, 6 from Lemhi, 15 from Oneida, 5 from Owyhee, 16 from Shoshone and 8 from Washington.

From a source close to Chairman Brady, head of the machine and leader of the opposition to Borah, it was learned that the Brady forces have been given up the fight. They say that Borah by no means has the battle won, and that when the roll is called some surprises will be developed. Mr. Borah, it is asserted, will not manifest the strength he claims, or anything like it. Mr. Brady himself said: "We are in the fight to stay. I think we have it won. The convention is going to be a big one and a harmonious one. There will be no senatorial endorsement. If a resolution to endorse is offered it will be defeated."

Depended on Heyburn.

In this connection it may be said that everything depends on the attitude of Senator Heyburn. There is a very general belief that Borah has entered into some sort of agreement that gives him the delegates votes from the Mormon counties. Certainly those delegates are for him, almost to a man. It is thought that Senator Heyburn, if he desires to do so, can make serious inroads in this strength. If Heyburn keeps his hands off it looks to an impartial observer as if Borah had won his fight.

Interest in the governorship and congressional nomination fights has been subordinated to the senatorial contention. Governor Gooding is on the ground, and has been for a day or two. He and his supporters declare the governor will be nominated on the first ballot to succeed himself, and that there is a possibility of a nomination by acclamation. The latter contingency, it is fair to state, is by no means a remote possibility.

Gooding's Good Prospects.

There is not a great deal of organized opposition to Gooding, although there is a strong undercurrent against him. The statement is freely made that the nomination of Gooding depends on the outcome of the Mormon population was for Borah and harmony.

Interview With Mr. Brady.

In answer to questions, Mr. Brady said: "I am satisfied with the outcome of the peace negotiations. While it is true that I had some ambition to represent my state in the United States senate, and while I had expected to present my claims to the next legislature, I realize that no man is bigger than his party. I am perfectly willing therefore to lay aside my ambition for the sake of party harmony. I made the fight against the proposition to nominate a candidate for United States senator in convention on principle and because I did not believe it was for the best interests of the party, and not with any reference to my possible candidacy for that office. I realize fully, however, that this seems to be the wisest and the only course for the party to take."

Done to Insure Success.

"The arrangement that has been reached today and that is expected to result in the nomination of the strongest possible list of candidates for state positions, and in the endorsement of a candidate for the United States senate, was accomplished only after the most able discussion of every phase of the situation. In so far as I was a party to this settlement, it is done with the plainest motives. I believe that the coming election is the most important that will be held in the state in this generation. At this time I feel that it is the imperative duty of every man to stand for the commonwealth. I believe I am doing this. I believe I have many propositions and I urge a similar course upon the members of the party in this state."

Borah Is Jubilant.

Mr. Borah and his friends made no effort to conceal their gratification over the outcome. Among other things Mr. Borah said:

"It would be foolish for me to express anything but satisfaction. Present indications are that there will be no opposition in the convention tomorrow to my nomination for the senate. I am very grateful indeed to my friends for their earnest and unselfish support. I believe the Republicans will carry the state of Idaho at the election next fall and that the legislature will endorse me for senator. If this is the case I pledge myself to serve faithfully the people of Idaho. I have no ambition to be a congressman and that if there is any influence on my part it cannot be charged to lack of effort for or loss of interest in this state."

Talk With Gooding.

Governor Gooding, too, was pleased, which was quite natural. The governor desired it understood that he appreciated the services of his friends and that he believed the state ticket to be named tomorrow would be elected. "The harmony," said he, "was not reached without a full and free discussion. It seemed to be best. I would not have been so easily won over if the appointment of the officers I had no hand whatever. Those matters were left to the county delegates, the officers being apportioned to the various sections of the state. The names suggested by the county delegates were chosen as the nominees of the state. I had no personal hand in the matter whatever."

BEFORE HARMONY MEETING.

Review of the Situation as it Appeared in the Morning. (Special to the Herald.)

Pocastello, July 31.—Idaho Republicans apparently believe in coming east to the state conventions and in staying late. Pocastello is today full of them and several big county delegations are being organized. Mr. Borah has been on the ground with Frank J. Hagenbarth and others of his lieutenants for several days. Among the delegates to this morning's meeting was Senator Heyburn. #### Gooding's Good Prospects.

There is not a great deal of organized opposition to Gooding, although there is a strong undercurrent against him. The statement is freely made that the nomination of Gooding depends on the outcome of the senatorial question. The plan is to settle the senatorial nomination first. If Borah wins, it will mean the practical unanimous nomination of Gooding. If Borah loses, and his failure can be charged to Gooding or any of the governor's friends, Gooding will experience some rather hard sledding. This, too, in face of the fact that it will be the governor's anti-Gooding men to center on any candidate. Former Congressman Edgar Wilson has been mentioned as a possible nominee so has Dr. Francis of Wallace. Neither has developed much strength. French will be nominated for congress according to all indications, practically without opposition. The "boy wonder" is said to have a large majority of the delegates. T. H. Hamer of Fremont will get some complimentary votes, among them the delegates from his home county, and a few complimentary votes may be cast for one or two other candidates. But French has the nomination nailed down tight.

Beatty's Rod Was Up.

Judge J. H. Beatty of the United States district court is here with a senatorial lightning rod up, but there is as much chance for him to hit as there is for President Roosevelt to enter the race for the governorship. However, Judge Beatty is not mentioned as a possible nominee and indulging himself in some strong, though ill-founded, hopes. Judge Beatty only after the able discussion of every phase of the situation. In so far as I was a party to this settlement, it is done with the plainest motives. I believe that the coming election is the most important that will be held in the state in this generation. At this time I feel that it is the imperative duty of every man to stand for the commonwealth. I believe I am doing this. I believe I have many propositions and I urge a similar course upon the members of the party in this state."

NEWS PLEASING TO CACHE

Northern County Gratified by No Extra Session Decision of Governor.

Logan, July 31.—The news that Governor Cutler had refused to call the legislature together in special session was received with much satisfaction here, and people are now very hopeful, quite sanguine, in fact, of success for the college in the coming campaign. The committee conducting the campaign took heart from its work with renewed vigor, and the people of the state are pretty certain to have all the college boys in the legislature before them by the time the election rolls around. The critics are saying now that the governor's action will probably afford Congressman Howell an excuse for another "firm stand" in favor of the college. Notwithstanding the heroic efforts of his friends to keep an adverse comment there is still a lurking suspicion in the minds of many committee men that Joseph's first and principal alleged sin was his "firm stand."

It is practically certain that there will be no attempt at political fusion in Cache county efforts in coming east to the state conventions and in staying late. Pocastello is today full of them and several big county delegations are being organized. Mr. Borah has been on the ground with Frank J. Hagenbarth and others of his lieutenants for several days. Among the delegates to this morning's meeting was Senator Heyburn. Mr. Heyburn is looking much better than his friends had any right to expect him to be in view of his long and serious illness during the winter and spring. #### BATTLESHIPS COLLIDE.

Alabama and Illinois Come Together During a Fog.

Newport, R. I., July 31.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commanding the Atlantic fleet, today looked on in view of a collision which occurred during a fog last night between the battleships Alabama and Illinois, about eight miles southeast of Newport. The side of the Alabama was scraped by the bow of the Illinois and several plates of the forward part of the Alabama were damaged. Rear Admiral Evans said tonight that he would state that neither ship was injured below the water line. A beamman Corbett of the Illinois was severely injured by the fall of a lifeboat davit that it was necessary to amputate one of his legs tonight.
